DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
CHIEF, ARMY MARS
MILITARY AUXILIARY RADIO SYSTEM
MARS GATEWAY, BLDG 90549 JIM AVE
FORT HUACHUCA, ARIZONA 85613-7070
3 July 2014

Office of Chief Army MARS

Badger Amateur Radio Society W9YT
1415 Johnson Drive B265g Engr Hall
Madison, WI 53706

Dear Badger Amateur Radio Society,

Thank you for joining us in our celebration of Armed Forces Day 2014 by making contact with the United States Army Military Auxiliary Radio System (MARS) station(s):

☐ AAZ Fort Huachuca, AZ	☒ WAR Washington, DC	☐ ABH Schofield Barracks, HI
☐ ADB Camp Foster, Okinawa	☐ AAC Lexington, KY	☐ WUG-23 Wynne, AR

This unique method of celebrating Armed Forces Day reemphasizes a continued climate of mutual respect and warm esteem between the United States military and amateur radio operators around the world.

Please accept the enclosed QSL card as special recognition of your participation in the 64th Anniversary of Armed Forces Day and the 65th military to amateur radio cross band test. This QSL card verifies your contacts on 10 May 2014.

If you are interested in learning more about us, please visit our web page at http://www.netcom.army.mil/mars, follow us on facebook at: http://www.facebook.com/HQArmyMARS or contact my office at the following mailing address.

CDR, NETCOM
ATTN: NETC-itsmd
BLDG 90549, Jim Avenue MARS Station
Fort Huachuca, AZ 85613-5000

On behalf of the United States Army MARS, and especially our military members past and present, we thank you for joining us on this special occasion. Hope to hear from you again next year.

Sincerely,

Stephen Klinefelter

STEPHEN G. KLINEFELTER
Chief, Army MARS, AAA9A

Enclosure